

County Technical Services, Inc.

Since 2005 CTSI has offered grant writing services and centralized county administration services to all governmental entities. CTSI created these programs in response to survey results and the request of counties for such services.

Listening to the counties of Colorado.

These services are available to pool members and non-pool members on a fee-for-service basis.

The counties of Colorado can call on CTSI for high-quality grant writing services and centralized county administration services.

CTSI provides grant writing services to help counties apply for federal and state grants. Grant money is available to county governments to fund a variety of county programs, but they simply don't have the resources available to apply for those grants. In fact, much of the money available for grants to local governments is never awarded because no one applies for it. Put CTSI to work for you investigating the best grant options for your county. The service is completely self-supporting; counties are charged on a fee-for-service basis.

CTSI also provides centralized county administration services. This program focuses on meeting the needs of those counties who do not have a full time county administrator or manager.

CTSI provides services such as:

- Budget development
- Feasibility studies to fund new projects
- Evaluation of county compliance with state and federal regulations
- Administration oversight for county road and bridge departments
- Administration oversight for social services departments
- Advice regarding the formation of special districts
- Assistance with the organizational structure of operational government
- Other services exclusively designed for your county

The program is completely self-supporting, with costs to each participating county based on the number of counties enrolled in the program and the services used. Call Dennis Hunt, Manager – County Administration and Grant Services, at 303-861-0507 to get your county enrolled in these innovative programs.
